Stock Replacement Parts - Cross Reference List -

S&S® PARTS FOR STOCK REPLACEMENT APPLICATIONS

Everybody knows that S&S parts are used to make bikes go faster, but sometimes we overlook the fact that many S&S components can be used in stock replacement applications. After all, if we have the parts to build complete engines, we have the parts to fix them too. The majority of non-performance related components are the same as stock. For example, if you are going to install an S&S camshaft, won't you be replacing the cam bearings and tappets too? So why not order them from S&S when you order the cam?

Some benefits of using S&S parts for routine work are that you can consolidate orders to save on shipping, use the extra volume to get to the next S&S discount level or receive free shipping, and most importantly there is the peace of mind in knowing that you are using superior quality S&S components. So the next time you are getting ready to order some stock replacement parts, take a look at this short S&S-to-stock cross reference chart to find an S&S part that will fit the bill.
